Neuro Touch Consultation - Coming Soon

Neuro touch uses muscle monitoring and integrated neurological systems to determine, locate, assess and heal damage or disconnections in the body and brain's energy circuits .

This is done by making contact with multiple points along the body to trigger a specific pathway. A muscle test, usually of the arm, gives indicators to determine whether confusion is associated with any body/brain system. Once we locate pain points, disconnects or dysfunctions in the multiple systems of the body we can also locate pathways to healing. Thus making it the ultimate personalized healing treatment, tailored to each client's needs.
